Humanion Films was established in 2009 by Executive Producer and Director Katia Louise who is widely known as a spokesperson and champion for the health and welfare of animals. She is a lifelong animal & environmental advocate and she is recognized for her investigative documentaries as an advocacy journalist. Ms Louise works together with some of the country's top horse experts, and rescuers in effort to raise awareness for the abolishment of equine cruelty. Earlier this year she produced "Saving America's Horses" an audio documentary for international radio. Katia is also known as the popular talk show host of WFL Endangered Stream Live Talk Radio for Animal Protection.

Debra Lopez is Associate Producer for this project. Ms Lopez is also the Producer/ Host Animal Advocate TV and President of Caveman Productions; Ms Lopez is a popular singer/ songwriter and hales from an extensive background in animal advocacy. She is also the Executive Director of Animal Fairies Charities.

Amanda Daniell's visionary creations are part of the program's artistic design endeavors. She is a lifelong animal activist, a fine artist, writer and poet. Amanda has been working in the animal rescue field for some time and she is also a Co-Host and Contributor for WFL Endangered Stream Live Talk Radio for Animal Protection.

Filmmaker, Katia Louise states, "We have a compelling and riveting film in the works which promises to arouse strong public outcry in support of America's horses. The film is attracting the attention and support of key industry names with several of the country's most renowned and prominent horse experts on board and others still joining in."

The feature presentation is anticipated to receive strong reviews and is moving forward quickly. – Completion expected fall 2009.
